MANCH TYLER PACHECO COLLECTION

Q3-2022

Lakai has always been heavily influenced by our team riders. This season we created a collection around “What Would Manch Do?” Tyler likes to stick with performance styles with a timeless aesthetic, nothing too outrageous but still have a little “flare”. He wanted to offer three different styles that blended together and focused on performance. The collection consists of the Cambridge, Atlantic and a modified version of the Telford Low. The look of each style was important to Tyler. He wanted the color palette to be wearable, but each style to look different. The Cambridge in white, Atlantic in Navy suede and the Telford Low as a two-tone Navy / White marries the collection together. The major change is to the Telford Low. His favorite outsole is on the Atlantic, so he put that sole on the Telford Low to create a totally new look. The details finish each style with a timeless branding on the tongue and insole.

NATHANIEL RUSSELL

SPACE EARTH
PEOPLE
ARTIST SERIES

Nathaniel Russell was born and raised in Indiana. After college, Russell spent several years in the San Francisco Bay Area making posters, record covers, and woodcuts. He returned to his home city of Indianapolis and now spends his time creating drawings, fake fliers, bad sculptures, wood shapes, and music. Russell's work is regularly shown around the world in both traditional galleries and informal spaces, usually surrounded by an expanding list of friends, collaborators, and like-minded folk. He frequently returns to his second home of California to work with friends on projects as varied as murals, print workshops, and backyard musical performances.

SPACE EARTH PEOPLE

The themes for this collections are the boundaries between our inner and outer selves, our relationship to the natural world and our place in the universe. The very big connects to the very small and our past, present and future are intertwined.

SPACE : inner space and outer space, the universe within and without us.

EARTH : are we of the earth or only on it? Are we from the natural world or apart from it?

PEOPLE : what is and what was. we are and we were and we will be
